

The Be Careful - Home Series

By Kriss Keller

PRESS RELEASE

Pompy and Titany become guardians of your young children, teaching them of the everyday dangers found throughout the home, in these delightfully illustrated nursery rhymes by former nanny.

From sharp knives in the kitchen to hot irons in the study, the average home is filled with normal objects that can pose a serious risk to the safety of young children who are unaware of the possible dangers. In The Be Careful - Home series by Kriss Keller, Pompy and Titany become your child's new friends, teaching them about each individual item that can cause them harm.

It is a pot. / It is a hot spot, / with boiling water a lot. /

Do not touch it, it is hot!

Written for children ages 1-4 with simple rhymes and accompanied by colourful illustrations created by Keller herself, The Be Careful - Home Series is designed to provide clear and easy-to-remember instruction for parents to teach which objects have the potential to hurt them. Rather than try to scare the children into learning what might be dangerous, the series gently and playfully explains the threat and how they can protect themselves.

After years of working as a personal nanny and tutor to different families around the world, Keller was inspired to use her expertise to create a tool that would aid parents everywhere in teaching their children how to stay safe. Educative and lighthearted, The Be Careful - Home Series is the perfect tool to teach preschoolers and below about the common hazards that surround them.
